

Secretary of State of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Dear readers and students,

I would like to address my warmest greetings to those who will have the opportunity to read the Eduitalia guide - study in Italy. You have already expressed an interest to know more about Italy which I encourage you to pursue.

The promotion of the Italian culture and language abroad have always been among the primary goals of the Italian Ministry for Foreign Affairs, through its diplomatic network and in coordination with many associations and public bodies.

Encouraging the knowledge of the Italian culture abroad is an important step to build mutual understanding for a lasting collaboration. The Italian Ministry for Affairs supports the important activities carried out by Eduitalia, which has a critical role to support the realization of many foreign students' dream to study in Italy. Eduitalia works in close collaboration with the diplomatic service in order to facilitate student visa and administrative support to foreign students.

The Study in Italy Eduitalia guide is a flexible instrument, allowing students to find the right course matching everyone learning demands, in the places and periods they prefer. The guide proposes a selection of the academic courses of special schools or universities.

Thanks to this real-life experience in Italy, I wish that Eduitalia students could become special friends and ambassadors of the Italian culture into the world, and propose a similar cultural experience to friends and relatives.

I welcome all of you with all my best wishes for the cultural experience you are going to have in Italy. It is going to be a rewarding one, thanks to the active support by Eduitalia.
