

I am delighted to introduce the “Study in Italy 2020” Eduitalia Guide. Starting in 2007, the Guide has provided a useful overview of Italy’s academic system, thanks to the work of Eduitalia’s 111 affiliated Institutions, Universities and Schools. With an ever-expanding network, Eduitalia offers to prospective international students a wide variety of courses in different locations throughout the entire country.

Across centuries of history and cross-cultural contaminations, Italy has been the cradle of research in both humanities and STEM. By studying in Italy, you will live in vibrant environment where innovation and research will mark your learning experience. As highlighted in this year’s Guide, whether your passion lies in the subjects most commonly associated with Italy’s artistic heritage or in applied and theoretical sciences for the future, Italy is the place to be.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation is fully committed to the promotion of Italian culture and language abroad and to supporting the international mobility of students and researchers. A commitment that stems from the awareness that culture and education are the base of cooperation and understanding among peoples.

Eduitalia plays a crucial role in supporting a widespread knowledge of Italy among international students, most notably in the United States and the Russian Federation. Eduitalia is a strategic partner of our Diplomatic network in its mission to attract international talents and help Italian Universities and Academies to strengthen their international presence. I wish you all the best for your stay in Italy and in Eduitalia’s network!

A handwritten signature in black ink, which appears to read 'Emanuela C. Del Re'. The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above a horizontal line.

Emanuela C. Del Re
Italy’s Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation