Sant'Anna Institute

Sant'Anna Institute welcomes more than 1,500 American students every year.

Our summer programs, as well as our semester programs, provide a multicultural academic environment strongly oriented toward experiential learning.

The offer includes courses in various academic fields, including economics, humanities, languages, social sciences, and international relations, as well as internship opportunities with local and international partner organizations. These programs are designed to integrate theoretical learning with practical applications, enabling students to develop academic and professional skills in an international context.

All courses and internship experiences grant U.S. academic credits, which are fully transferable and recognized by the students' home universities, in accordance with their respective academic regulations. This makes Sant'Anna Institute programs particularly suitable for students who wish to enrich their academic path with an international educational experience without interrupting their academic progression.

Further personal data of the awarded student will be requested at a later stage.

We look forward to your kind reply.

Yours faithfully,

Dott. Olga Stinga
